Dear Sir/Madam:

Renaissance Technologies LLC - Notice of Initial Substantial Holding in Genetic Technologies Limited (“Genetic Technologies”)

We attach a notification of initial substantial holding of shares in Genetic Technologies on behalf of Renaissance Technologies LLC (“Renaissance”).

We note that the notice has not been submitted in accordance with the required timing under the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (“Act”). This omission is due to a systems error and Renaissance has sought to rectify matters expeditiously since its discovery of the omission. To assist in understanding the position, we have set out below the pertinent background.

Background

We are the sponsor and investment manager of a number of investment fund complexes (the Funds) that trade globally in a variety of financial instruments, based on data feeds from computer-generated algorithms which we have developed over time. Our investment management activities in Genetic Technologies are conducted through American Depository Receipts (ADRs).

Running in parallel to the algorithmic trading systems which determine trading activities is a proprietary reporting system (the Reporting System) which highlights positions globally in which the underlying Funds and/or, where applicable, as investment manager to those Funds, we are required to file position holding reports with the relevant company and/or regulator as a consequence of the size of the relevant Fund’s holding (or the aggregate holding of the Funds managed by us) crossing relevant percentage holding thresholds.

Reporting omission in respect of Genetic Technologies

Due to a technical error in its coding, unfortunately the Reporting System did not properly capture positions held via ADRs in Genetic Technologies, and as a consequence the Reporting System did not flag the need to make any notifications in Australia concerning Genetic Technologies.

Renaissance Technologies LLC
800 Third Avenue • New York • New York • 10022-7604
212-829-4460 Fax: 212-758-7136

Renaissance currently holds a 6.09% aggregate shareholding in Genetic Technologies, as disclosed in the attached ASIC Form 603, after becoming a substantial shareholder on 9 March 2017. We can confirm that this interest has not been acquired for the purposes of a control transaction.

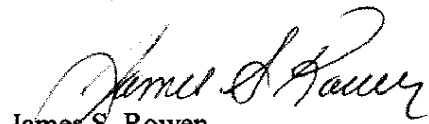

This coding error was discovered during a recent review of the Reporting System and we have immediately sought to make the appropriate disclosure to the ASX. We can also confirm that our Reporting System has been updated appropriately to correct the coding error.

We would like to take this opportunity to apologize for any inadvertent breaches of the Act as a consequence of this isolated technical shortcoming in our Reporting System.

It was, and is, always our intention to comply with all relevant rules in Australia (and elsewhere) relating to substantial shareholding reporting. We take our obligations to comply with pertinent regulatory obligations very seriously; something which we hope you will agree is clearly demonstrated by the speed and pro-active nature with which we have notified you of the situation that has arisen.

To the extent that you would like any further information on any of the above or would like to discuss any related matters, please don't hesitate to contact our Australian counsel, King & Wood Mallesons (diana.nicholson@au.kwm.com).

Sincerely,

James S. Rowen
Chief Operating Officer

DIRECTIONS

- (1) If there are a number of substantial holders with similar or related relevant interests (eg a corporation and its related corporations, or the manager and trustee of an equity trust), the names could be included in an annexure to the form. If the relevant interests of a group of persons are essentially similar, they may be referred to throughout the form as a specifically named group if the membership of each group, with the names and addresses of members is clearly set out in paragraph 7 of the form.
- (2) See the definition of "associate" in section 9 of the Corporations Act 2001.
- (3) See the definition of "relevant interest" in sections 608 and 671B(7) of the Corporations Act 2001.
- (4) The voting shares of a company constitute one class unless divided into separate classes.
- (5) The total number of votes attached to all the voting shares in the company or voting interests in the scheme (if any) that the person or an associate has a relevant interest in.
- (6) The person's votes divided by the total votes in the body corporate or scheme multiplied by 100.
- (7) Include details of:
 - (a) any relevant agreement or other circumstances by which the relevant interest was acquired. If subsection 671B(4) applies, a copy of any document setting out the terms of any relevant agreement, and a statement by the person giving full and accurate details of any contract, scheme or arrangement, must accompany this form, together with a written statement certifying this contract, scheme or arrangement; and
 - (b) any qualification of the power of a person to exercise, control the exercise of, or influence the exercise of, the voting powers or disposal of the securities to which the relevant interest relates (indicating clearly the particular securities to which the qualification applies).

See the definition of "relevant agreement" in section 9 of the Corporations Act 2001.
- (8) If the substantial holder is unable to determine the identity of the person (eg if the relevant interest arises because of an option) write "unknown".

- (9) Details of the consideration must include any and all benefits, money and other, that any person from whom a relevant interest was acquired has, or may, become entitled to receive in relation to that acquisition. Details must be included even if the benefit is conditional on the happening or not of a contingency. Details must be included of any benefit paid on behalf of the substantial holder or its associate in relation to the acquisitions, even if they are not paid directly to the person from whom the relevant interest was acquired.
